Participants Needed

Social Participation Improvement via Goal Attainment Scaling in Children with Autism Spectrum Disorder

We welcome any child ages 6-12 years of age, who is diagnosed with Autism and has sensory processing deficits, to inquire about our summer group OT treatment camp.

When: July 11-29, 2016 (15 sessions)

Mon-Fri 9am – 11am

Where: Misericordia University Passan Hall

What will the children do: Participants will engage in therapeutic group activities targeting sensory processing and social participation skills in a fun, play based environment. The children will develop a "sensory toy box" during the span of the camp. Children and parent/guardian will learn how to use the sensory items and methods to improve social participation with peers.

Group Leaders: Dr. Lori Charney, OTD, OTR/L and 6 Masters degree students from Misericordia University's Occupational Therapy Program will be running the camp as a research project.
