Join Vivian as she relates how suffering and unfairness in life can be a turning point in a person’s life when they use poetry to unlock their true creativity and feelings.